

Have you had the conversation?

How to talk with your kids about substances.

Upper Merion Area School District's elementary school leaders believe that now is the time to talk with our kids about drugs and alcohol. Please join us, and together we will talk about:

- The reality of when and how kids are introduced to substances.
- How to have a conversation with children about loved ones who might be struggling with substance use.
- What to do if you are concerned that your child may be experimenting.
